

WE'RE DOING A BIT OF SHOPPING

MADISONSOHO, Europe's most dynamic specialist retail destination marketing agency, is continuing to expand and is looking to appoint several new team members to join its exciting and growing agency.

Shopping Centre Marketing Specialists

We are looking for several experienced shopping centre marketers to work with clients in both UK and across Europe. A seasoned marketer, with vast shopping centre marketing experience, you will be able to transform shopping centres into places of true wonder and significantly enhance asset values using marketing. You'll be able to audit existing marketing plans and programs, create new ones with ease and vigour, manage a creative and marketing supply chain and work at the highest levels. Working from any of our UK offices and wherever clients need you.

Finance Manager

An experienced and qualified accountant, you'll be relishing the challenge of heading up our finance department, reporting to our CEO. With a competent grip on all aspects of commercial finance, you will be capable of creating and implementing new systems, procedures, controls and reporting methods and optimising our finance operation. Based at our Birmingham office.

Senior Designer

We need a seasoned and experienced, cross media designer to join our creative team. Based in our Birmingham studio and reporting to our Creative Director, you'll know instantly how to turn briefs into award-winning cross media campaigns. Strong integrated experience is essential and a retail design background is preferred.

Marketing Junior

An enthusiastic marketing graduate, you want to take your first step on the agency ladder. With a keen interest in shopping and retail, you'll be looking for a wide-ranging marketing support role that provides exposure to all areas of our dynamic agency. From performing administrative and executive support to specialist research and assisting your account management colleagues, you'll be ready to dive in at the deep end and learn as you go. Only candidates that are positive, ambitious and hungry for progress need apply. Based at our London Spitalfields office.

Business Development Director – Asia

With extensive shopping centre marketing experience and contacts, as well as the ability to deliver and grow significant new business streams across multiple new clients, you will be relishing your next career challenge in China. Already living in Shanghai or prepared for a swift relocation, you will be bi-lingual in English and Mandarin and have experience of living and working in Asia. The role will require you to devise an all-encompassing expansion strategy for the fast-paced Chinese shopping centre market, and convert and deliver real new business results, month on month. You will enjoy the high-octane environment that is our rapidly expanding Chinese division.
